

Call for Proposals KOLT Teaching Innovation Grants (TIG)

Koç University Office of Learning and Teaching (KOLT) Teaching Innovation Grants program aims to support full-time faculty members and instructors in their pursuit of innovation and excellence in their teaching. The program is now open for applications.

Deadline: Please submit your proposals to kolt@ku.edu.tr no later than 5 pm on February 10, 2021.

Eligibility: Faculty members or instructors who have not received TIG before are eligible to apply for this grant program.

The priorities of KOLT TIG for Spring 2021 include the following items:

1. Design of an online course that integrates new educational methods to maximize student learning in Spring 2021. The proposed course should be an exemplary course for the KU community not only in its well-written learning outcomes, assessment techniques, and innovative teaching activities, but also with its syllabus, lesson plans, and well-prepared course materials such as slides, videos, etc.
2. Courses that bring innovation to teaching and assessment practices in large courses
3. Courses that increase active learning through design and delivery of authentic learning activities

Application Form: Please complete the application form provided in this link:
<https://forms.gle/HoybemQCHBoBSsRr6>

Evaluation and Funding: Proposals will be evaluated based on the following main criteria: major improvements to be achieved, number of students that will be impacted, applicability, sustainability, transferability to other departments/courses, and overall impact of the proposal on learning and teaching at KU.

The funding will be up to 5.000 TL depending on its impact on bringing innovation to learning & teaching at KU. Purchases must be made according to the new purchasing regulations, and expense receipts should be submitted no later than April 30, 2021. Please consult with KOLT about eligible purchases for this grant.
